Architecture Otherwhere - Architecture in Cloud

Cloud is a visible body of very fine water droplets suspended in the atmosphere. What if every drop is an architectural idea, which came from Baltic countries, so how this visible body will look like?

Do we see the same clouds in our entire BAUA region? Do we have the same architectural ideas? Could the Baltic Sea, which produce clouds on our countries also prompt us an idea how represent our architecture. There are more questions when answers. In our days, cloud has more meanings: an electron cloud, computing clouds and Icloud, Cloud-on, Autodesk cloud service and so on and it proves that theme of cloud isn't out of date and it will be easy to remember. The goal is represent cloud in immaterial, fanciful, snappy way.

BAUA could present a simple, but strong statement: Cloud which will convey an interpretation of the main theme "Architecture Otherwhere". The cloud could be made from a lot of drawings, which will be twisted and rolled to the paper tubes and these paper tubes collected one to another and will form a mass. Also it could symbolize that a lot of good ideas are not realized they are left in paper or architectural ideas are going everywhere like clouds and limits of the countries are not important.

Architecture in Cloud

The souvenir which visitors can take away could be a small box or tube with nothing inside, it will be described as a place for idea, or air or cloud from Baltic countries. Also it could be one from rolled tube from cloud ceilings. Also it is possible to produce and share a candyfloss.
